Suzanne S. Finney, Mary Mostafanezhad, Guido Carlo Pigliasco and Forrest Wade Young

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 3:00 PM, IN CRAWFORD HALL 115

In this roundtable discussion we will be joined by several contributors from our recently published, At Home and in the Field: Ethnographic Encounters in Asia and the Pacific Islands, to examine contemporary ethnographic fieldwork in Asia and the Pacific Islands. This collection of narratives was designed to supplement introductory classes across multiple disciplines, including anthropology, geography, sociology, Pacific Island studies and Asian studies, with recent and regionally relevant examples of ethnographic field research. The stories represented in the collection will resonate with UH students and the diverse cultural heritage of the residents of Hawai‘i.

For further information, please contact anthprog@hawaii.edu.